Our Thanks To-Gregg Bradshaw Linda Wilson East Central High School Tulsa, Oklahoma Volume II, 1977

The Last Hurrah

Do you remember?
Cheers intent on winning
A roaring stadium full of anticipation
Overwhelming enthusiasm
Banners hopeful of a victory
A moment that was never forgotten.
Cardinal courage, a deep devotion
To that good ole Red and White.

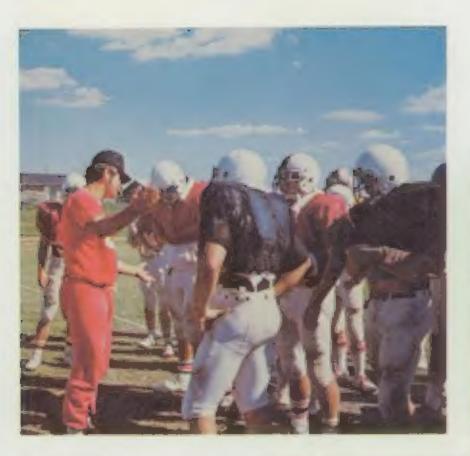

The Good Guys And The Bad Guys

Security of people's voices, I heard them every day A feeling of assurance had always come my way Our special group, our get togethers, my friends and all the gang

In many words it can be said, how this year was a bang.

But most of all as we know the times that had most meaning

Was during "Fortune's" greatest hour as on a friend we're leaning.

Born Free

A gust of wind finds its way to a fallen leaf. lying purposefully in its path

For it has a destiny, that small, seemingly insignificant piece of foliage does have a purpose. The weathered parchment has waited patiently for this moment.

Like us it is given wings, airborne in the presence of a fresh new awareness of life.

Bless The Beasts And The Children

School isn't just in the classrooms.

Think of all the other things to do . . .

Sign the sheet.

Join the clubs.

Get invited and meet after school.

Spirit ribbons - 25 cents.

F.H.A. makes for better future mothers.

All those big red balloons the Pep Clubbers blew up.

Witches . . . Can Can girls . . .even Dracula showed up at the French Club Halloween party.

Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams

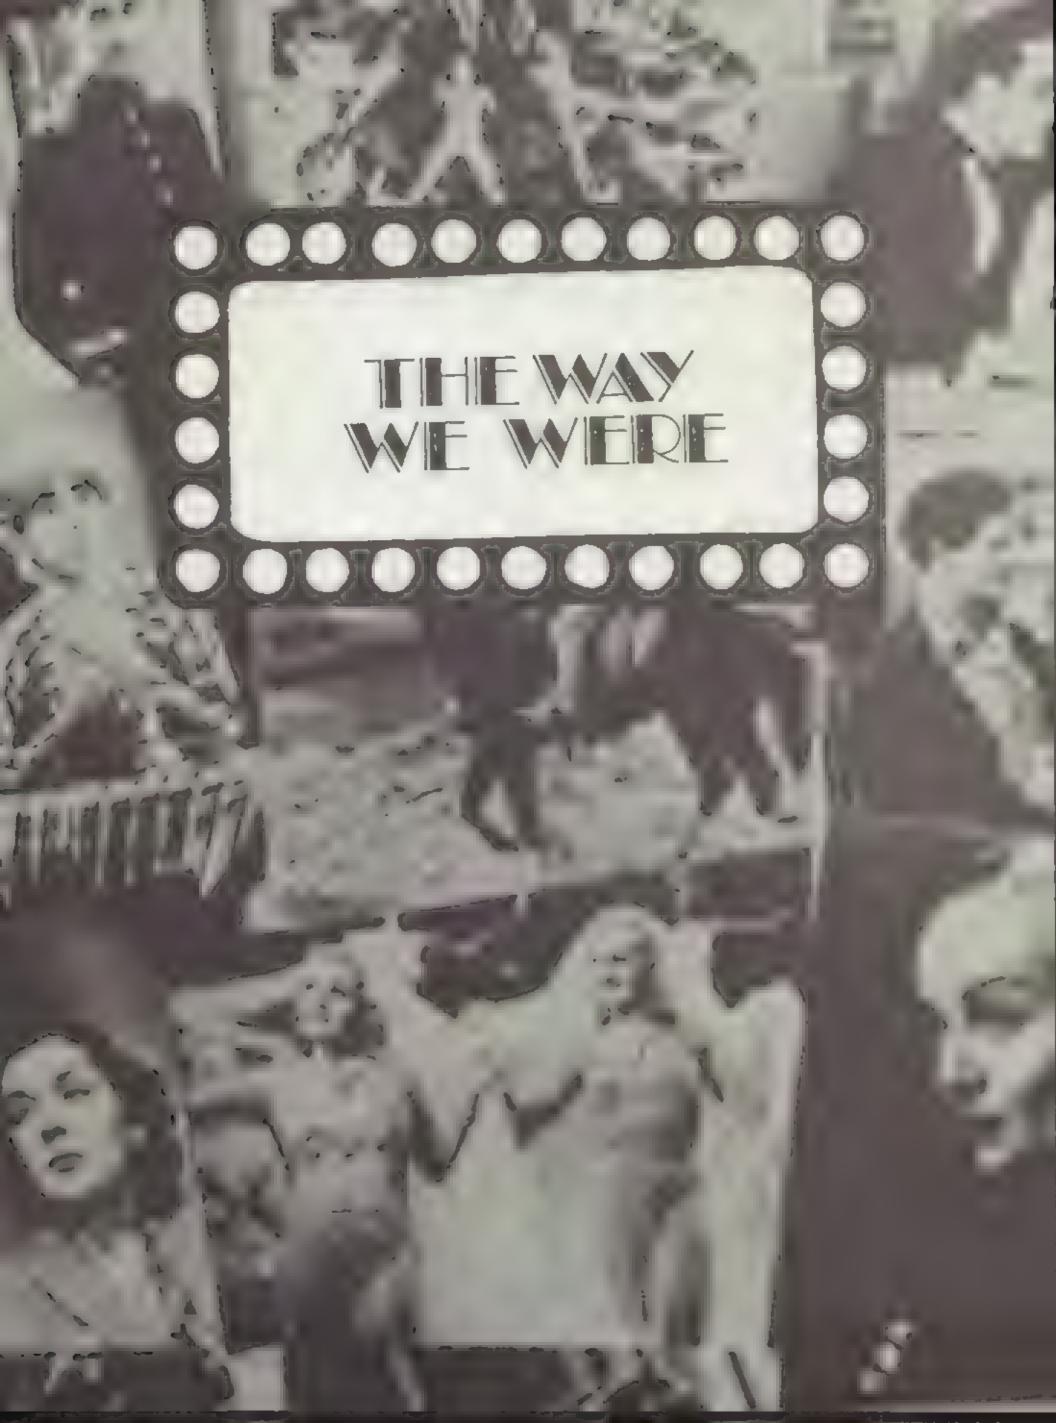

To dream new dreams
To fulfill long cherished ones.
Choosing our own path
Down life's way
Life's frontier-ours to explore.
Will our achievements here
Be left as memories
Or will they contribute to our future?
So many decisions lie ahead
Ending one beginning
Starting another—

These three years have come and gone
So quickly now it seems
For some the years will still go on.
For others, only dreams

This is a time, proud and sad.

At the close of our last high school year

A time to remember the good times we had.

As our future quickly draws near

Is this the beginning, or is this the end?

Of what will I do with my life?

Will I gain a partner, or true friend.

Or even a husband or wife?

I've been a Cardinal, strong and true,
I know I have succeeded

To achieve the things I set out to do.

With the help of friends I've needed.

Sophomore's Philosophy On E.C.?

"Somehow all the juniors and seniors know you're a sophomore, like the time you fell going up the stairs; the word "sophomore" rang through the halls immediately But along with the not-so-good times, there are some wonderful times; the first football game, and the sense of belonging. You're just one voice in a crowd of cheers, but you are an individual...This year in high school, you've matured greatly, but that little bit of sophomore will remain inside you forever." - Terry Beach-

"I'm really going to miss not being a sophomore next year. This year everything seems so bright and new, and I'm afraid that the brightness and newness of it all will tarnish and then what fun would it be?" - Nancy Warburton.

"It always seems that sophomores get caught more easily than juniors or seniors: like leaving class early or riding the elevator without a pass, but I guess that's because they've had more experience." - Jill Hodges-

Class Of 1979 "Sophomores may be green, but nature's first green is golden...God, grant me the screnity to accept those things I cannot change." - Kelly Peterson-

'It's almost a disappointment when being chased by seniors through the halfs, being thrown into the girls' bathroom, and things like that don't really happen." - Roger Tucker-

"Just making new friends and seeing new faces outweighs any disadvantages in the sophomore year...! haven't found many disadvantages, but with all that talk of "being a sophomore," there must be something lurking around the corner." - Stan Goodchild-

"Juniors and seniors think they're real neat trying to sell us little innocent sophomores elevator keys that don't work...we're defenseless against the juniors and seniors!" - Kelly Calhoun-

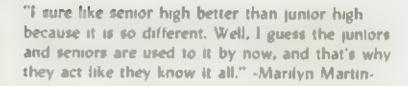

"When it's time for assemblies the sophomores are the last to be dismissed and when lunch time comes around, who's got permission to leave? Well, not the sophomores, they have to eat "army food!"

Kay Arkison

"Since I've come to East Central, most of the seniors have been really nice to me. Many juniors have tool...I think the juniors and seniors of E. C. are what makes this school so great." -Randy Clay-

"This year was a lucky one for me. I didn't meet any of the older guys who had spray cans up their sleeves or a bush especially reserved with my name on it...sometimes you'll be trying to hurry to class because you are almost late. All of a sudden, someone sticks their feet out and trips you, causing a commotion. The halls are so crowded you wouldn't even know who-dunnit...l guess it's nice to be a sophomore, but I sure would be a whole lot more comfortable if I were a junior right now."

Ron Bender-

"The work involved in your sophomore year makes ninth grade look like kindergarten work." -Robin Perkins-

"I'm not prejudiced, but I think our class is the best yet, and I'm sure we will prove ourselves."

-Ellen Young-

Dr. Larry L. Zenke

Board of Education

Dr. Larry L. Zenke brightened the horizon of Tulsa education this year when he was appointed Superintendent of Schools and began his administrative duties on October 4. An impressive array of school experiences accompanied the new superintendent: those of classroom teacher, principal, administrative intern, and Director of Elementary Education.

Working with a seven member Board of Education, Dr. Zenke faced such problems as school financing, enrollment and boundaries, curriculum, maintenance: all phases pertaining to Tulsa's 104 schools in the system.

"Lights, Camera, Action" -

These three words have probably been called out in the film studios in the production of millions of feet of celluoid pictures that have recorded for future generations the plays, books, news events and dreams of our times. These same three words might be a guideline that we might apply to our everyday life of now and the future. As this 1977 yearbook has utilized the principle of the camera to record the highlights and events of this past school year, I am sure that each of you will search through its pages to find events that were important to you this year and will be pleased to find your picture or name left imprinted on its pages for future generations. I trust that the enlightenment that you have received in your training and educational pursuits will fulfill your needs and equip you to reach your life. goals and that in these coming years, you will have the pleasure of seeing your skills converted into action so that your life and the lives of your loved ones and our great nation will be better served because of the training. reachings and activities captured in this yearbook that you may open it in later years and recall your mental "Flicks and Flashbacks" of your years at East Central High School.

George Dorsch

Larry Smith

Since we're on our way to being one of the biggest schools in town, we added another Assistant Principal this year, Mr. Bill Stephens, in charge of Attendance and Supervision. And it's pretty hard to put one over on him, Mr. Stephens has been a Cardinal for 13 years, starting 1964 as History teacher, basketball and baseball coach. Chalk him up with two basketball conference championships. Then he became a counselor and his strategy changed from "That's not right, Refl" to "Why aren't you in class!" Now he's a principal and he knows why you're not in class. Mr. Dorsch, in charge of Curriculum, and Mr. Smith, heading Student Activities, round out the school's administrative staff in conjunction with Mr. Payne, to keep the Cardinal wheels rolling

Art

Careers or Creativity?

Art students explore both avenues from many classes offered: Basic Art, Commercial Art, Silk Screen, and Advanced Art, Painting and Composition. Among other activities, Basic Art students learn Old English, lettering and illustrating a poster. Commercial Art students work with advertising, interior and industrial design. They organize a portfolio of their work to present to employers, universities, or art institutes. Silkscreen students explore stenciling techniques ranging from paper to glue and specially prepared films, to photo-silkscreening Advanced Art students work with jewelry casting and construction and with throwing pots on the potter's wheel.

Music

What's a picture show without background music? That's what East Central would be without instrumental and vocal music to provide excitement and beauty in the background of our lives, it's a lot of work, though, for band, orchestra, and choral students as they spend hours in solo and group practice, getting ready for public performances, both at East Central and out-of city contests

Business

Fen teachers cover a range of business subjects from beginning typing and shorthand, Law and Accounting to advanced actual on-the-job training, which is supervised by Lu Spybuck, head of the Cooperative Office Education program. Speed and spelling, both are emphasized. First year typists learn the keyboard and then push up to 50 words per minute. Second year students try for 80 as they type business letters and manuscripts. Shorthand students strive for speeds up to 100 w.p.m., working from tapes, transcribing and typing letters in mailable form. Charles Dreas joined the staff this year as Basic Business and Business Math and Records teacher.

"Whoever is not familiar with foreign languages knows nothing of his own." This statement is known to be true by all foreign language students, whether German, Greek, French, or Spanish. Under the direction of "Herr Schulte". German students learn translations and have vocabulary quizzes from Lekture. First year French students are introduced to "Madame Wright's" puppets, instead of translating right away. During the course of the year. French classes have cheese tasting parties, learn French games and learn of the French civilization. December is a special month for Spanish students when they learn Christmas songs. They have tapes of native Spanish speakers and like to play Spanish games. Greek is the new language at East Central this year, taught by Mr. Owen

Journalism

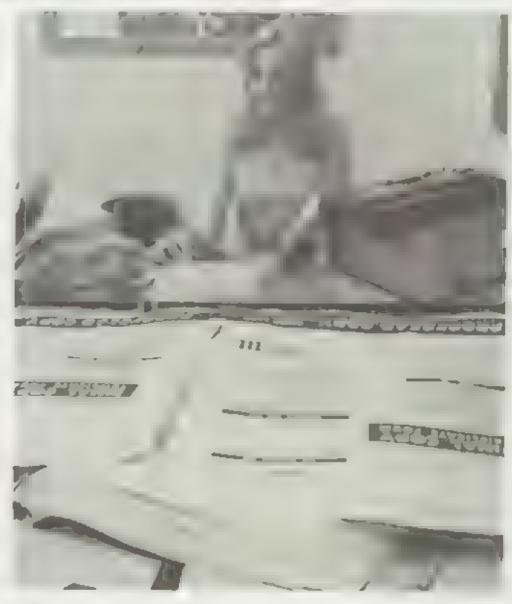

Excitement was created in Publications this year, as the school paper Tale Feathers was faunched under the direction of Judy Klenda. The paper had it all: ads, pictures, five columns, four pages of professional printing and lively copy. The Cardinal yearbook carried more color than ever before, with an "At the Movies" theme which surprised a lot of Cardinal students, according to sponsor Jan Armstrong. Photographers Mark Shelby, Mike Sparr, Lisa Freire and Mac Senter spent a lot of personal time covering events from sports to plays and coronations to give a full sweep of the year's activities at East Central

Scenery seen in the productions on stage is built and painted by two technical theater classes, which also do much lighting for the school productions. Did you know that there are some people in this world that actually like mathematics? We have at least eight of those people at East Central. Their job is to teach the rest of us to like it, or at least know how to do it. Mr. McCray is the head of this department, where some students rack their brains finding solutions to problems that are a page long. And why do they go to all this work? That is a question that has been asked time and time again. Here are some of the answers: logical reasoning, know-how to balance your bank account, figure out your income tax, even put a man on Mars somedayl Due to growing interest and demand, the department has added two new members, Gall Broyles and James Sparks

Physical Education

The Physical Education Department started off with a bang this year - co-educational classrooms! For the first time girls and boys were allowed to join the same team, whether it was tennis, volleyball, or field hockey. There were times, though, when each did their own thing. Girls performed at the Tulsa Fair with gymnastics, some of them rhythmic, and volleyball. Boys still have priority on the rough and tumble sports like wrestling and flag football. Highlights of the year included the Tennis Sports Day in October and the Volleyball Sports Day in December. Biology students dissect frogs, worms, and starfish, probing the secrets of internal organs and how they function. Of equal interest is a study of drugs, how they affect a person's mind and body, their street names and medical uses. Physiology presents a more advanced study of the human body. Department Chairman Pat Ward continued teaching his students. Chemistry, along with "Elom's" help. Walt Lambert joined the staff to teach Biology.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS NAMES APPEAR ON PAGES 86-87

Starring 239 Cast Members

National Honor Society is one of the largest and one of the most popular organizations at East Central. This year at our school, there was a total membership of 239 students. To become a member of this distinguished club, one must have a grade of 3.5 and a junior and an average of 3.25 as a senior to maintain membership. There are four main points of the National Honor Society: these are (1) Scholarship, (2) Leadership, (3) Citizenship, and (4) Loyalty. Every year the club is involved in many activities. This year N.H.S. visited North Tulsa Nursing Homes and greeted them with baskets of citrus fruit at Christmas time For Easter, they visited the Children's Medical Center and brought baskets and hid Easter eggs.

N.H.S. Officers are Pans Fields, Teresa Ryser, Chuck Foreman, Jim Zodrow, and Sponsor Mrs. Loyd

Also this year, as every year, the National Honor Society will take their annual trip to Six Flags Over Texas in May. One of the high points in the year for N.H.S. is the big initiation of juniors into the club. This was done in November with the students' parents as guests. This year the guest speaker at the initiation was Mr. Don Woods, the weatherman from Channel 8. Mr. Woods shared with us a story of Christ done with the ever popular "Gusty." N.H.S. helped out the rest of the students and faculty by tutoring to the slower students in many subjects, and by assisting teachers in things like decorating bulletin boards. and giving curriculum suggestions. Officers of N.H.S. this year are Jim Zodrow-President, Chuck Foreman-Vice-President, Pam Fields-Secretary, and Teresa Ryser- Treasurer

Choral Highlights

One of the most suspenseful events of the year among choral groups is the election of Choral Sweetheart and her attendants. The 1977 honoree ("You Ought to be in Pictures") is Miss Sharon Panages, with her attendants Paula Beehler and Shelly Conrad, Juniors, and Julie McClure, So phomore. Advanced Mixed Chorus members are experienced singers who often perform in churches and assemblies with the Concert Chorus. Mixed Chorus is made up of students who have never had choir experience but like to sing. Members participate in pop assemblies, the Messiah, and the Spring Concert. They are learning to be musical "stars," learning to read music, singing different parts, and producing proper tones.

Spanish Club

On December 19, Spanish club broke a colorful pinata at their annual Christmas party. Throughout the year, the club learns more about Spanish customs and the culture of Spanish-speaking countries by visiting Spanish restaurants for dinner and also preparing a Spanish breakfast. The club serves our community by visiting nursing homes and selling brightly colored paper flowers to raise money to buy shoes for needy children. Guest speakers. Spanish games and songs, as well as challenging other clubs in various sports are a few of the activities which Spanish Club participates in

FCA

We all had fun this year. Christmas caroling in the winter weather, and especially at the Christmas party afterwards. Taking candy to the children at the Children's Medical Center and having a hayride were just a few things that we have done during the year. Maybe the "tuffest" thing was trying to find a sponsor for our FCA group. We have had a lot of guidance this year from a number of sponsors. One of our sponsors is Coach Dan Crookham. Although he left teaching at East Central last year, he came back every week from Locust Grove to sponsor us. But we needed a sponsor in the school, and although he wasn't sure at first. Coach Shields took up the job of sponsor. We have also had a lot of support from Coach Smittle who has helped us through most of our meetings with a lot of guidance. It is quite a year to remember and it is sure all FCA members will remember. . . Colossians 4:6.

Scuba Club

Scuba club is an organization designed to promote scuba diving and water safety. East Central is the first public school in Oklahoma to sponsor a Scuba club. The sponsor of our club is Mr. Hagar McClain. This year there have been five classes of ten students. Each graduated from their class with pride There is also going to be a group trip to Central America this summer.

Kips started the year off by performing at the Tulsa State Fair. They demonstrated such things as dancing, rhythmic gymnastics, and gymnastics. They were at the same time filmed and put on cable t.v. Talents were also demonstrated by performing before a wrestling match, this time adding tumbling to their program. Kips meets every Tuesday and Thursday after school with Coach Penny Thomas, who is also the coach of the All-city champion E.C. Jockettes, Kips practice on their gymnastics skills, hopefully for the High School Gymnastrada. Kips is for anyone who likes to perform gymnastics or dance, whether they compete or not

The pep club started the year off on the right foot by signing up over a hundred members, so many in fact, that we could not possibly name them all. The pep club, together with its officers and the cheerleaders were able to keep the spirit at £ C. at its peak by doing such activities as baking cookies for the players, filling stockings for the wrestlers, and having a breakfast for the basketballers; not to mention the many signs and posters plastered all over the walls for a little extra touch. Carmel apples, relays, and obstacle courses made the pep assemblies real "sweet" although they did have their "bitter" moments when one carmel apple turned out to be an onion. The pep club proved how much spirit £. C. has

5 excellent ribbons and the UCA Spirit Stick proved East Central cheerleaders were the BEST at camp

Remember me through the year, the eight bubbling faces that tried hard to cheer.
Your victories turned our gray skies clear, And being defeated brought us nights with tears.

We showed you all, what at camp we learned, And all the excellent ribbons that we earned.

I'm sure that you'll remember the fun we had. And the obsurd pyramids made everyone glad.

We cheered on our football boys in the rain. But spirit in the crowd was mostly our aim.

At the wrestling matches we pounded on the mat. Watching our man pin his opponent flat.

Mu Alpha Theta is a club that is something rather special to its members. To get into this club you have to have had or presently be taking Intermediate Algebra; then to be initiated into Mu Alpha Theta you have to play a rather unusual game. This game consists of students working ou problems on posters around the school. When you find the answer to one problem, it tells you which one to go to next. This club has meetings with students giving talks on such things as "Infinite Series" and "Pythegorean Triples". Every year Mu Alpha Theta has guest speakers rom colleges and takes field trips to the T.U. Math Department to study the computers.

Journalism class members learn the arts associated with newspaper journalism. These skills include composition of news stories, features, columns, editorials, cartoons and ads. Fundamentals of news page layout and design are also necessary skills in the production of a newspaper. Employing the techniques necessary for off-set printing processes, the students learn many technical skills as well. The Cardinal TALE FEATHERS is entered into several collegiate and local competitions, wherein attention to detail in all phases of newspaper production are judged with a careful eye

"Having the ability to put down a moment in words is a rare talent for one to have. A group of diligent hard-working students formed East Central's first active paper staff. The efforts were tremendous, and the majority of the class really tried, they really wanted to make a go of it."—TIM KINCAID "I've met new people, not only the journalism staff members, but also the community business people and advertisers. Through them, I feel like I've entered at least in a small way into the world of business and the world beyond school."—KAREN PHILLIPS

Swimming at East Central was another year of successful competion. Under Tom Langham's watchful eye. "stars", like John Stapleton, Keith Martinkewiz, Steve Johnson, Bill West. Volia Machado, Phillip Dees, swam their way to fame Long practices, filled with 40-yard sprints, diving, and distance workouts made sure that the Cards were ready. Girl swimmers proved that a lot of hard work will go a long way. Next year should be even better, with a majority of the team returning for another year of mean swimmers.

Gymnastics team, as always, had an outstanding season with 8 wins and 1 loss to Edison by 1 point first in the city with individual honors, such as Kristi Schleicher taking 1st place in all-city. Teri Marrs 2nd, and Kari Schleicher 6th. The basketball team had an outstanding season with a whooping 13-2 record to take 1st in the city and 8th in the state

Some games were closer than others, as in the case of the Washington game that went into 4 overtimes with E.C. coming out on top. The volleyball team had a record of 6 wins and 4 losses taking 1st in their bracket and 4th in all around competition

Track and Field Competition gets tougher every year, and the EC tracksters set the pace. New coach Chuck Dreas takes pride in his all starteam. Returning lettermen Pete Abbey, Eddie Wells, Phil Perritt, and Tony Hodges form the base for a team extraordinare, 880's, 440's, 220's, and 110's are an integral part of each practice. Hurdles are Steve Yeakley's business, E.C.'s state bound junior, Girl's track is at an all time high, with 16 vying for top honors. Under the leadership of Mark Shelby, Steve McClure, Mike Moose, and Paul Louderbaugh, the 2 mile and mile runs will belong exclusively to the Cards Pete Abbey throws a shot that can't be beat, accompanying Tony Hodges and his supernatural discus throw shoes from his medal-winning long jumps. Tough juntor Phillip Perritt runs a mean 880. Coach Dreas explains that running is half in the mind, so mental preparedness is a priority. Good Luck to coaches Chuck Dreas and Bill Corbits and the E.C. track team.
